Create a meditative moment with Votive, a mounted candleholder by Anderssen & Voll.

Torbjørn Anderssen and Espen Voll have built a reputation for their emotionally-driven designs. This talent can be seen with Votive, a candleholder whose name reflects their hope that it'll encourage regular moments of quiet contemplation in the home.

“We believe that lighting Votive will become a small but nourishing daily practice,” says Voll of their ambitions.

The pair deliberately chose to design an analog piece because it links the traditional and the modern. Such an interplay can be seen in Votive's design, which blends its age-old purpose with a strikingly minimalist aesthetic. Available in brass, the 'squircle'-shaped dish is mounted behind a candleholder sized for a single tea light. When lit, the effect is a soft, glowing light that encourages a meditative state.

“Place the Votive next to a kitchen table, in a hallway, or by your bed” suggests Voll. “We believe that the ritual of lighting it, as well as the contemplative character of its warm light, should direct your thoughts on where it belongs in your home.”
